MITSUBISHI GAS CHEMICAL COMPANY,INC. Receives Intel's Prestigious Supplier Continuous Quality Improvement Award

Tokyo, Japan, April 9, 2013 – MITSUBISHI GAS CHEMICAL COMPANY,INC. has been recognized as one of eight companies receiving Intel Corporation's prestigious Supplier Continuous Quality Improvement (SCQI) award for their performance in 2012. Recognizing extraordinary commitment to quality and exceptional performance to Intel's goals, this award is Intel's highest honor for its suppliers acknowledging world-class, outstanding performance. MITSUBISHI GAS CHEMICAL COMPANY,INC. provided chemicals for semiconductor device manufacturing, deemed vital to Intel's success.

"It is a great honor for MGC to receive the SCQI award in 2012 for the first time," said Kazuo Sakai, President, Mitsubishi Gas Chemical Company, Inc. "I would like to thank Intel for their continued support and assistance. In the spirit of this award, we will continue to improve the quality of our products and robust supply network to exceed this important milestone."

"Congratulations to MGC for winning Intel's prestigious 2012 SCQI award. MGC's performance in the areas of technology development, quality and environmental, social and governance initiatives have been outstanding. Intel thanks you for your continued support and we look forward to growing our collaboration in 2013," said Tim Hendry, Vice President and Director of Fab Materials Operation, Intel Corporation.

The SCQI award is part of Intel's Supplier Continuous Quality Improvement program, which encourages Intel's key suppliers to strive for excellence and continuous improvement. To qualify for SCQI status, suppliers must score at least 95 percent on a report card that assesses performance and ability to meet cost, quality, availability, technology, environmental, social and governance goals. Suppliers must also achieve 90 percent or greater on a challenging improvement plan and demonstrate solid quality and business systems. Additional information about the SCQI program is available at <http://intel.com/go/quality>.

A celebration to honor SCQI award winners was held in San Jose, California. In addition, there was an announcement on Intel's website at <http://intel.com/>.
